Passports Furnished Lord Sackville by Mr. Bayard.

HE IS NO LONGER OFFICIALLY REC-OGNIZED BY UNCLE SAM.

By the Direction of the President He is Given His walking Pap rs-The Secretary of State Gives the Reasons Therefor-His Lordship Refuses to Be Interviewed-Press Comments.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 .- Tuesday the secretary of state, by the direction of the president, informed Lord Sackville that for causes heretofore made known to her majesty's government, his continuance in his present official position in the United States is no longer acceptable to this government, and would consequently be detrimental to the relations between the two countries.

The grounds of this action on the part of the United States are stated in a report of the secretary of state to the president dated Oct. 28, in which the entire case is reviewed and the reprehensible character of Lord Sackville's conduct is emphatically stated.

The following is Mr. Bayard's letter to the "DEPARTMENT OF STATE, WASHINGTON, Oct. 29, 1885. To the President:

"The undersigned has the honor to submit for your consideration the following statement, with a view to receive your direction thereon. On the 4th of September last a letter purporting to be written by one Charles F. Murchison, dated at Pomona, Cal., was sent from that place to the British minister at this capital, in which the writer solicited an expression of his views in regard to certain unsettled diplomatic questions between the United States and Great Britain, stating at the same time that such an expression was sought by him for the purpose of determining his vote at the approaching presidential election. He stated that he was a naturalized citizen of the United States, of English birth, but that he still considered England the motherland, and that this fact led him to seek advice from the British representatives in this country.

"He further stated that the information he sought was not for himself alone but to enable him to give certain assurances to many other persons in the same situation as himself, for the purpose of influencing and determining their political action as citizens of the United States of English birth but who still regarded their original obligations of allegiance as paramount. The letter also contained gross reflections upon the conduct of this government in respect to questions now in controversy and unsettled between the United States and Great Britain, and both directly and indirectly imputed in sincerity in such conduct.

"To this the British ininister at once replied from Beverly, Mass., under date of the stated that any political party which openly favored the mother country at the present moment would lose popularity, and that the party in power is fully aware of that fact; and that in respect to the questions with Canada, which have been unfortunately reopened since the rejection of the fisheries treaty by the Republican majority in the senate, and by the president's message, to which you allude, 'all allowances must therefore be made for the political situation as regards the presidential election.'

"The minister thus gave his assent and sanction to the aspersions and imputations above referred to. Thus under the corres pondent's assurance of secrecy in which the minister concurred by marking his answer 'private,' he undertook to advise a citizen of the United States how to exercise the franchise of suffrage in an election close at hand for the presidency and vice presidency of the United States; and, through him, as the letter suggested, to influence the votes of many others.

"Upon this correspondence being made public, the minister received the representatives of the public press and in frequent in terviews with them, intended for publication, added to the impugnments which he had already made of the good faith of this gov ernment in its public action and interna tional dealings, although ample time and opportunity have been afforded him for the disavowal, modification or correction of his statements to some of which his atten tion was called personally by the undersigned, yet no such disavowal or modification has been made by him through the channels in which his statements first found publicity.

"The question is thus presented whether it is compatible with the dignity, security and independent sovereignty of the United States to permit the representatives of a foreign government in this country not only to receive and answer without disapproval, and confirm y his repetition as persons upon its political action, but also to interfere in its domestic affairs by advising persons, formerly his countrymen as their political course as citizens of the United States.

"As between this country and Great Britain there can be no controversy as to the complete severance of the ties of original allegiance by naturalization. Disputes on this point were finally put at rest by the treaty of naturalization concluded between the two countries on the 13th of May, 1870. Therefore, it will not be contended, nor was such contention ever admitted by us, that citizens of the United States of British origin are subject to any claim of the country of their original allegiance.

"The undersigned has also the honor to call attention to the provisions of Section 5535 of the revised statutes of the United States, by which severe penalties are visited upon the citizen of the United States, who without the authority or permission of this government, 'commences or carries on any verbal or written correspondence, or intercourse with any foreign government, or of any officer or agent thereof, either with an intent to influence the action of such government or its agents, in relation to any disputes or controversies with the United States, or with an intent to defeat the measures of the government of the United States.' Those penalties are made equally applicable to every citizens of the United States, not duly authorized, who 'counsels, advises, or assists in such correspondence' with similar unlawful intent.

"The undersigned respectfully advises that the attention of the attorney general of the United States be directed to these enact ments in order that an investigation may be made with a view to ascertain whether they have not been violated in the present case by the correspondent of the British minister.

"By your direction the attention of the British government has in a spirit of comity been called to the conduct of its minister as above described, but without result. It therefore becomes necessary for this govern ment to consider whether as the guardian of its own self-respect and of the integrity of its institutions it will permit further intersourse to be held through the present British minister at this capital.

"It is to be observed that precedents are not wanting as to the question under consideration. It is a settled rule, essential to the maintenance of international intercourse, that a diplomatic representative must be persona grata to the government to which he is accredited. If, by his conduct, he renders himself persona non grata, an announcement of the fact may be made to his government. In the present case all the requirements of comity have been fulfilled, the facts having been duly communicated to her majesty's government, with an expression of the opinion of this government in regard thereto. Respectfully submitted.

"T. F. BAYARD." Lord Sackville's dismissal is substantially as follows: "My Lord-By direction of the president I have the honor to inform you that for cause heretofore made known to her majesty's government, your continuance in your present official situation near this government is no longer acceptable, and would consequently be detrimental to good relations between the two powers. I have the further honor, by direction of the president, to inclose you a letter of safe conduct through the territory of the United States.

"I have the honor of being your obedient ervant, T. F. BAYARD."

Minister West refused to be interviewed on the president's proceeding. Secretary Bayard said there was nothing he could say in addition to what was stated in his report to the president. The government's action, he said, constituted a complete severance of our relations with Minis ter West. The secretary did not care to enter into any speculation as to what Great Britain would do in the matter or as to when a new minister would be sent here, but nized in any event. Secretary Bayard declined absolutely to give out anything in regard to the spirit in which the communications of the United States were received by the British govern-

English Press Comment.

LONDON, Nov. 1 .- The Standard, commenting on President Cleveland's action in the Sackville matter, says:

"If the intelligence we publish this morning from Washington is substantially accurate in its verbal details, the American government have taken summary action of a deliberately offensive kind in relation to Lord Sackville. Mr. Bayard has informed the British embassador that for reasons already known to the English government, his continuance is no longer acceptable, and action of the secretary of the interior has would consequently be detrimental to the caused the greatest consternation in Denver relations between the two countries. "Apparently it has been thought necessary to assert American dignity by insisting on some open rebuke of Lord Sackville. The inference seems to be that Lord Salisbury saw nothing in his conduct to justify severe disciplinary measures, and consequently American statesmanship felt it necessary to take the punishment into its own hands.

Terrell appealed from the decision of the local land office. At the time he asked to homestead the Greeley tract he also made application for a timber culture claim on land which is situated near Greeley.

Terrell has received word through the land office here that the timber claim had been allowed by the secretary of the interior, and that his homestead claim would also in all probability be granted. The property in question includes that portion of Greeley upon which the most valuable buildings in town are situated. The timber tract is included in that section of land owned by the Union Pacific Railway company. INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 1 .- There has been a deadly feud for several years between John H. McFee and Thomas H. Slavin, originating in Knightstown, this state, ever business matters, and the trouble culminated Tuesday night in a shooting affray in which Slavin was shot under the right shoulder and McFee through the bowels and right ear, all three shots taking effect from the rear, showing that both were moving when wounded. Eight shots were fired altogether in the saloon and on the sidewalk, and a number of persons were imperiled by flying bullets.

McFee was fatally hurt and Slavin dan. gerously, and both men were transferred to the hospital. Both men came to this county some time ago, engaging in the saloon business, but at different points. Afterward McFee sold out, and he made trips to different points, but whenever he returned and Slavin's name was mentioned, he was quick to express his determination of wiping him out sooner or later. Slavin was also bitter toward McFee, and a bloody encounter has been anticipated by their friends for months.

McFee has quite a history, as he once shot the marshal of Knightstown, and he also killed a negro at Carthage, this state. 4 In the last named case he proved self-defense. After his arrest Tuesday night he remarked: "Slavin has done me up, but if I've finished him it's all right." He has a wife and children at Knightstown.

Slavin is unmarried. Bystanders report that when Slavin began shooting McFee ran into the street; then he turned and chased Slavin back into the saloon, shooting him down as he entered the door. .

COOLER WEATHER,

But No Frost at Jacksonville-Only One Death Tuesday.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Nov. 1.—The discharging of a large number of men from the public work necessitated by the demands for immediate retrenchment of expenses of the sanitary association funds has already caused mutterings and grumblings among the colored people. This is a danger that has long been apprehended, and requires to be carefully watched for fear they may rise in riotous action, and cause great loss to property, if not possibly life.

A petition to pay the home phycicians for their services to charity patients was not favorably considered by the sanitary association, as the establishment of the bureau of medical aid and the services of the visiting doctors was designed to meet this want, they attending only to the indigent sick, and not interfering in any way with the private practice of the local doctors.

A decided change in the weather took place Monday night, the temperature very perceptibly falling, though it did not bring the much coveted frost. The thermometer fell to 52 degrees. #### The West-Republican Conspiracy.

The scheme to make the English Minister a "Burchard" to the Democratic party is the shallowest trick ever attempted in American politics.

It is now well known that the letter purporting to have been written by one how he should vote at the Presidential election, was the work of a Republican, who planned the scheme some time ago, and designed to spring it upon the country a day or two before the election, when it would be too late to successfully refute it. But fortunately it was prematurely given to the public and in ample time to expose the villiany fully and completely. General surprise has been expressed at the readiness of the British Minister to allow himself to be led into the trap set for him, but there is now not so much wonder at his course, since it is well known that he and all the British legation are hostile to Democratic policy and have been outspoken in their opinion that a reduction of the American tariff and the placing of certain articles of raw material on the free list would seriously injure the commercial interests of England by making this country a competitor for trade in the markets of the world Tuesday and vote for Cleveland, Thurwhich England now monopolizes.

The sentiment of the English people as gathered from the utterances of the press and her public men is antagonistic to tariff reduction in the United States, because it means diminished British trade and consequently a check to the prosperity of English manufacturers.

There is a grave suspicion that Lord Sackville was a willing party to this Republican scheme to Burchardize the Democratic party, if not in actual preparation at least in sympathy. That fact was so well established that but little surprise is expressed at the President's prompt action in giving Mr. West his walking papers.

WORK AND WAGES.

Look at the Starvation Rates Paid the Employes of the Maysville Cotton Mills.

THOMAS RUARK, of Vanceburg, has been Interesting Facts and Figures Which All Should Examine Before Voting.

> Republicans have been bending their every energy in an effort to convince the laborers of this country that their wages depend upon the success of the Republican party.

They have been persistent and shameless in their false cry of free trade, and have sought every means, in season and C. come out in new military uniform out, to make the laborers believe that a high tariff insures high wages. They have harped upon this question continually. BARGAINS in clocks, hanging lamps, Every little backwooks politician and stumpspeaker has taken up the cry and echoed it.

> Now honestly and candidly, down in their soul they know that this that wages depend upon the supply and demand, and not upon the tarff. They compare the wages in this country with the wages in England, but they studiously live. This is only one case. They know as the "Candy Kitchen," East of Congress, and Mr. Burchett's declaration of pensioning every soldier who wore the blue will not do him any good.

HEISER. 1-3t hardly ever be heard of again in the halls of Congress, and Mr. Burchett's declaration of pensioning every soldier who wore the blue will not do him any good. the wages in England, but they studiously avoid any mention of the wages paid in France, Germany, Austria and Mexico.

Says the New York Times on this subject: "If high tariff makes high wages S. B. Wadsworth and George W. Childs other countries. Mexico has a higher tariff cently said : than this country has. Therefore, according to our thimble-rig logicians, wages for protection and England has not. Therefore, according to these logicians, us learn from a high-tariff authority. The commissioner of labor statistics for Blaine, is a zealous defender of the 47-percent. war tariff. In his last report this official gives the following tabulated statement of wages in certain trades in England and Germany:

WAGES PER WEEK.

n	England.	Germany.
	Bricklayers$7 56	$4 21
	Masons 7 68	4 07
	Plasterers 7 80	4 43
18	Uarpenters 7 66	4 11

t	Laborers 4 70	3 11
3	Saddle and harness-makers 6 63	3 96
	Tinsmiths 6 56	3 5

According to the theory that high tariff makes high wages workmen should get a good deal more in Germany than in England. But according to this table they get almost exactly 77 per cent. more in England than in Germany.

But let us bring the question nearer home. There is a cotton mill here in on horseback they can send in next Maysville. Its product is protected by a tariff of from 35 to 40 per cent. We are not positive as to the exact rate. Now look at the pitiful wages paid in this mill.

The comparison is as complete as possible with the information at hand. It will be seen that the cotton mill hands of over. low tariff England-"free trade England" as the Republicans persist in saying-get as good, if not better, wages Maysville get. Our sole object in pub- that this sum has been supplemented by mensely popular. It cleanses and tones lishing the above is to show that a high $10,000 raised here in this district. They up the clogged and feverish system, and tariff does not guarantee high wages. We know their only hope of electing Burchett dispels headaches, colds and fevers. For think the above is conclusive on this is by the unscrupulous use of "boodle," last August with a notice to Hon. Robert A. Cochran, one of the principal owners of the mill, that if the published table of wages paid his hands was not correct, we would be glad to hear from him. We have never heard a word yet from him on the subject. But we have heard from some one else. A gentleman of this city, a Republican, and an officer of the Harrison and Morton Club, has informed us that our table of wages paid the hands of the Maysville Cotton Mills was EN-TIRELY TOO HIGH. This gentleman was formerly a prominent Knight of Labor, and assured us that he knew what he was talking about.

It is a fact that there is more destitution and suffering among our cotton mill hands than among any other class of our citizens.

They labor from daylight till darkeleven and a half hours a day-and are barely able to keep body and soul together.

The miserable wages they receive are barely sufficient to sustain life, and all this in a "protected" industry.

There is one family employed in this mill consisting of a man, his wife and three children. We are informed the total wages of these five people amount and encouraging the home industries of to only about $10 a week and $2 of this this country by giving them their raw is retained by the owners of the mill as material free.) rent for the little house in which the

As an orator Mr. Burchett is not a success. He spoke about five minutes-not to exceed ten minutes at the most-and told the crowd how be would vote, if elected. It is but little trouble to summarize his position:

He would vote for the Blair bill.

He would vote to pension every soldier who wore the blue.

He would favor public improvements. Here he threw out a little taffy about that old "chestnut"-a public building for Maysville.)

The Schemes of the Conservatives Become Apparent

AS THE TIME FOR THE REASSEMBLING APPROACHES.

England and Scotland to Receive Their Attention While Ireland Takes a Back Seat-The Tories Fear Their Time Has Come - Nationalists Confident - Other Foreign News.

LONDON, Nov. 1. - As the time for the reassembling of parliament approaches it becomes more and more apparent that the Conservatives are resolved to keep Irish matters out of the bounds of discussion as much as possible during the session, and devote themselves to such legislation for England and Scotland as will tend to strengthen the party.

The loss of several seats within the last year has frightened some of the more timid of the Tories into the belief that the handwriting is upon the wall, and even the stoutest hearted ones see the necessity for prompt and vigorous measures to prolong the party's official life.

As a means of convincing the people that the Conservative party by its action in Ireland had averted disaster to the country in the shape of wholesale murder, arson, etc., the Parnell commission was thought to be a godsend, but the rulings of that body on the admission of a certain line of testimony and the growing weakness of the Times against the Parnellites have destroyed their reliance upon that method of making party capital and set the government's adherents to casting about in new fields.

On the other hand, the Nationalists appear to gain confidence daily and make no concealment of their determination to force an Irish measure of some kind upon the issue in order to precipitate debate. It is claimed by many of the leaders, and no doubt, believed by all, that every Irish speech in Parliament is worth two on the stump, and for this reason debate is what is most wished for.

The Liberals appear to be perfectly willing to acquiesce in the Nationalist program, but stand ready to point out to their more impetuous colleagues the danger of obstructive tactics at this time. If the government brings in English remedial legislation, the measure or measures ought, they believe, to receive the support of the Irish party as a means of spiking the enemy's guns.

Elections in Prussia.

BERLIN, Nov. 1.-The elections in Prussia for Wahimaennen were held Tuesday and were exceedingly quiet everywhere. Only 15 to 30 per cent. of the electors voted. The Social Democrats completely abstained from voting. The Friesinnige party again secured nine districts in Berlin with considerably increased majorities. The returns so far indicate little change in the composition of the house.

Shot by His Wife.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 1.—A private dispatch to the Times says: Andrew Fulton, ex-mayor of Pittsburg, was shot and seriously wounded in the right shoulder by his wife at his ranch some fifteen miles from this city Tuesday morning. It appears that Fulton has been intimate with a woman, Emma Johnson. The intimacy began in Pittsburg when Fulton was mayor. She has had two children by him, the youngest being three years old. About two weeks ago she sent for Fulton to be present at the christening of the child. Fulton arrived here and was met at the depot by Miss Johnson and her sister and started for the ranch. Mrs. Fulton arrived an hour later, followed him to the country and shot him.

SPORTING.

Duffy and McMillan Fight-The Former

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 .- The much-talked of prize fight between Patrick Duffy, of Boston, and William McMillan, of this city, took place at 1 o'clock Tuesday night, and was won by Duffy in the seventeenth round.

The fight was attended by about a hundred or more sporting men who left Tuesday night to be present. The scene of the fight was on the Virginia shore about fifteen miles below the city. The purse which was to have been $500 was about $150 short, but Jack Kirwin for Duffy agreed to fight for the money in band. Mr. Collahan, of Baltimore, was selected as referee.

The first round opened with clever sparring on both sides, until Duffy lauded a good blow on McMillan's cheek. McMillan received it solidly, and countered with his right. Both then exchanged rapid, though ineffectual blows, and the round terminated without either gaining advantage.

In the second round Duffy drew first blood but McMillan made so fierce an onslaught on him that he drove him to the ropes. The betting, which started 25 to 15 on Duffy, went up to even money on McMillan.

In the third round McMillan twice clinched with Duffy and threw hlm down, but claims of fouls were not allowed.

In the fourth and fifth rounds McMillan tried to renew the rushing, but was met with several heavy face blows that staggered him and dazed him. From that time it was merely a question of McMillan's endurance. He was game, though, and stood some heavy slugging in a manner that excited the admiration of the audience.

In the thirteenth round a heavy blow on the neck sent McMillan staggering to the side of the ring, where he fell like a log. He rose and fought on for four rounds more, but his fighting consisted merely in clinching with Duffy and butting him with his head. In the seventeenth round the fight was given Duffy on a foul of this kind.

The party returned to the city at 4 o'clock. McMillan was said to be in a serious condition and was brought to the city. Duffy was not much the worse for the battle except about his hands, which he had hurt in hitting McMillan. Duffy's friends claimed that some water given him to drink had been poisoned.

Another Foul.

HINCKLEY, Minn., Nov. 1.-E. R. Mohler and Bob Pratt fought with two ounce gloves, London ring rules, Tuesday night. Mohler knocked Bob down repeatedly and lost on a foul in the ninth round, hitting Pratt in the neck when on his knees. They fight to a finish in about two weeks for $250 a side.

A Terre Haute Murder.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Nov. 1.-Murder was enacted here Tuesday night in the midst of the big Republican parade. Polly Phillips, aged twenty, was the victim of an assassin's bullet. She was standing on a corner watching the parade when a man approached, pointed a revolver at her, and pulling the trigger said: "There, take that!" She fell to the sidewalk with a bullet through her head, and died a few minutes later. The murderer escaped in spite of the fact that the street was thronged with people, but was identified as a man named Galloway by several people who saw the shooting. Both parties live here, but the cause of the shooting is unknown.

Beecher's Statue.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1 .- J. Q. A. Ward, the noted sculptor of this city, is working hard on the clay model of the great statue of Brooklyn will place in Prospect park. The statue will be of bronze, eight feet six inches high, bareheaded, with the preacher's familiar soft hat in hand, and wearing his cape overcoat unbuttoned. Mr. Ward's idea is to show the great divine as a publicist and

A Grand Army Sensation.

NEWTON, Ill., Nov. 1.-Great excitement prevailed in this place Tuesday night over the contemplated arrest of several prominent Republican leaders and head officers of Reed Post G. A. R., for slanderous statement sert out in a circular purporting to be an appeal seizure of all cartoons of Boulanger, the to other posts throughout the state soliciting aid in securing a pardon for Silas Malcolm, sent up from here for murder two years ago. The circular it is said reflects severely on a number of prominent citizens.

Hoopeston, Ill., Nov. 1. -A peculiar death occurred here Sunday, the particulars of which were not made public until to-day. Dr. I. N. Bishop extracted a tooth for his wife, and while waiting for her to recover somewhat to extract another, her father thought to relieve the pain by exercising his mesmeric powers over her. He made a few movements over Mrs. Bishop's face, when she uttered a scream and died in the chair. Mrs. Bishop was not subject to heart trouble, and the case has occasioned a sensation here.

The Senate Held Responsible. Boston, Nov. 1.—The Pilot, John Boyle O'Reilly's paper, publishes a letter from P. A. Collins, Eugene Kelly and other leading Irishmen, declaring the senate is responsible for the insertion of the clause in the new treaty with England providing for extradition of dynamiters, and that, as framed by the administration, it guarded against the surrender of political offenders. Just Got a Ducking.

New York, Oct. 31 .- The steamer Saginaw, of the Clyde Steamship company, which sank in so mysterious a manner at Pier 15, East river, yesterday afternoon, was raised about midnight and lay alongside her pier this morning, little the worse for her immersion. Her cargo, consisting of provis-ions of all kinds, is, however, badly damaged.

Waylaid, Murdered and Robbed. WHEELING, W. Va., Nov. 1 .- On Sunday a gang of negroes in Mercer county waylaid four white travelers. They shot and killed two of them and robbed them of $600. The other two, named Henderson and Johnson, escaped to Eramwell, told the story, and with a posse of fifty men went in pursuit. The search has so far been unsuccessful, the robbers hiding in the mountains near the Kentucky line.
